Arcure supplies Liebherr with components for new assistance system

At Bauma 2019 in Munich, Germany, Liebherr presents its active personnel detection at the rear, a new assistance system for the wheel loader models L 550 XPower® to L 586 XPower®. This system increases operational safety on the jobsites by actively alerting operators of dangerous situations, such as pedestrians moving close to the machines. Arcure supplies Liebherr with important components for that new assistance system for wheel loaders.

“We are proud that the BLAXTAIR technology was selected by Liebherr, a world leader in construction machinery as part of its vehicles’ assistance systems. This demonstrates the relevance of our offer for machinery manufacturers as well as end users, who strive to reinforce safety on the jobsites” says Franck Gayraud, CEO and co-founder of Arcure.

About Arcure :

Founded in 2009, Arcure is specialised in the development and sale of solutions to increase the autonomy and safety of industrial machinery and robots based on cutting-edge technology in artificial intelligence applied to image processing for manufacturing sectors.

In collaboration with CEA's research teams, Arcure developed notably Blaxtair®, a cutting-edge pedestrian detection solution significantly improving the safety of industrial vehicles in a multitude of situations and particularly in the most challenging environments. With over 5,000 units already sold in more than 30 countries and used by global manufacturing leaders, Blaxtair® is gradually being adopted by machinery manufacturers.

More recently, Arcure expanded its offering with Omega, a 3D vision sensor based on the Blaxtair 3D technology dedicated to vehicle or robot manufacturers and integrators of intelligent systems for Industry 4.0.

Arcure, listed on Euronext Growth (ISIN : FR0013398997 - Ticker: ALCUR) had a revenue of €7.4 million in 2018 (with 54% of its sales abroad), in growth of 50%.
