

PAREF RECEIVED TWO EPRA AWARDS

PAREF, a leading European player in real estate management for more than 30 years, received two EPRA¹ awards, highlighting the quality of its financial communication and sustainability performance reporting.

BPR (Best Practice Recommendations) Gold Level Award

PAREF has been awarded, once again this year, EPRA BPR Award at Gold level, attesting to the excellence of its financial communication practices. This recognition reflects PAREF's ongoing commitment to ensuring quality and transparency in financial communication.

sBPR (Sustainability Best Practice Recommendations) Silver Level Award

PAREF also received EPRA sBPR Award at Silver level, illustrating its alignment with the best standards in extra-financial reporting. This also demonstrates PAREF's determination and commitment to rolling out its ambitious ESG strategy 'Create More' since 2021.

"We are committed to providing our shareholders and stakeholders with communication of quality and transparency. We are truly delighted with these awards, which underline our quests for excellence, and we will continue our efforts towards best practices. I would like to thank the teams for their contribution and involvement."

Antoine Castro – Chairman & CEO of PAREF Group

¹ The European Public Real Estate Association (EPRA) is an association whose mission is to promote, develop and represent listed European real estate companies. It plays an active role in public and political debate, and encourages best practice to ensure the cohesion and strengthening of the sector, and to promote better information for investors and stakeholders.
