

Versity SA, formerly Les Agences de Papa, victim of false information

Versity SA, listed on Euronext Access+, has recently been the target of false information circulating through press articles and social media posts. These rumors, notably claiming the company's bankruptcy, are entirely unfounded.

We wish to inform all our shareholders, partners, and clients that this information is false and solely aimed at tarnishing the image of our company.

We are currently considering all legal options to identify those responsible for this disinformation campaign. Legal action will be taken against any individual or entity that, in the future, spreads false information against our company.

Versity SA continues to move forward

Despite these attacks, Versity SA is continuing its development projects. In the coming days, we will announce a strategic acquisition that will strengthen our position in the real estate market and accelerate our growth.
